

27 December 1982

MEMORANDUM FOR: Charles Wilson
Chief, Public Affairs Division

THROUGH : Thomas Cormack
Executive Secretary

FROM : J. Kenneth McDonald
Chief, History Staff

SUBJECT : Lecture to U.S. Naval War College
6 January 1983

STAT REFERENCE : [redacted] 25 March 1982

I have been invited by the U.S. Naval War College to lecture to its Off-Campus students on Thursday evening, 6 January 1983, at the National Center Building, Arlington, Virginia. The lecture is on "The Origins and Conduct of World War I," a topic on which I have lectured as a professor of strategy at the Naval War College for several years before taking my present position at CIA in August, 1981. The lecture will be unclassified, and will not deal with any information arising out of my work as Chief of the CIA History Staff. I shall attach a copy of the Naval War College invitation of 15 December 1982, and of my Outside Activity Approval Request (Form 879) of 21 December 1982.
